

Ursula Gatewood
Data Steward
Equifax

For nearly the past 4 years, Ursula has served as a Data Steward at Equifax where she and her team are responsible for defining, maintaining quality, and ensuring compliance and security of the credit data. As an individual, she has created processes, best practices and successfully worked with cross-functional teams. Before joining Equifax, Ursula Gatewood had nearly 13 years of experience in the credit/payments sector as a Financial Analyst and a credit processing Research Analyst, responsible for ensuring data integrity and compliance within an authorization system. Ursula brings with her enthusiasm and the desire to help people live their best credit life.